

How Lilli supports independent living

Lilli's discreet lifestyle monitoring solution offers peace of mind, enabling independent living. By using data from smart technology to support evidence-based decision-making, the solution eases pressure on the system while saving time, costs, and resources. Below is an outline of what Lilli's non-intrusive, wearable-free technology can and can't do, when tracking behavioural patterns.

Lilli can

Monitor wellbeing via patterns of behaviour

Lilli tracks user activity and behavioural patterns to identify changes in:

health

mobility

well-being

Works without wifi

Lilli's Hub includes a multi-network SIM, meaning Wi-Fi is not required for Lilli to function effectively.

Live monitoring through multiple sensors

Lilli's Hub includes a multi-network SIM, meaning Wi-Fi is not required for Lilli to function effectively.

Harness predictive data

Lilli uses data and machine learning to assess trends in health, whether indicating a decline or supporting continued independent living.

Detect anomalies and declining health conditions

Lilli can recognise abnormal patterns, such as lack of movement or unusual behaviours, and detect health decline before it becomes critical.

Lilli can't

Monitor activity outside the home

While Lilli monitors frequency of leaving the home, it does not monitor any activity once a person has left their home.

See, hear, or infringe on your privacy

Lilli's technology does not use cameras, microphones, wearables, or any intrusive tech. It fully respects the privacy of the user.

Prevent falls or other incidents

Lilli's Hub includes a multi-network SIM, meaning Wi-Fi is not required for Lilli to function effectively.

Provide medical diagnosis

Lilli can't diagnose medical conditions - it can only monitor and identify potential signs of deterioration. It is up to the user's friends and family to monitor Lilli's identification of health deterioration and take action.

Share your activity without your consent

Only your care provider, carer, and chosen friends and family members can see your wellbeing status, with your consent, to help provide the best care for you. Your data is held securely and with full confidentiality.

Want to learn more about how Lilli supports independent living?

Get in touch with our team at support@intelligentilli.com

- we're happy to help.